Course Management

A grayscale wireframe of a web application interface. The layout includes a top navigation bar with a search input field and two additional empty input fields. On the left is a sidebar with five circular icons, each paired with a horizontal bar. The main content area is a table with four columns and ten rows. Each row begins with a circular icon, followed by four horizontal bars of varying lengths representing data cells. The design is minimalist, focusing on the structural arrangement of elements.
